The Truth (My Pillow) - Step By Step-Project feat. Nuel

Lyrics written by Manuel Albertin (Nuel) it was late at night in early june when we were singing in and out of tune i still remember, the beauty of your face and your smile then we took a walk into the night we shared our love until until the morning light we stayed on our route we were looking for this forbidden fruit oh yes we were!

if you really want the truth
i still think of you
my pillow still smells like you
i still think of you

after the rise comes only the fall these tastes of life, well, i know them all can't forget you, i tried but i still miss you oh yes i do!

i still think of you
i still think of you

it's not a matter of taste now it's not a matter of taste
it's not a matter of taste now
it's not a matter of taste now
it's not a matter of taste now

i still think of you
my pillow still smells like you
i still think of you
